Tracks:

- Phosphenes
- Endless Fields

New short digital EP by two european artists: Robert Farrugia and Roman Willi (aka 天). Robert is an Ambient / Experimental / Neo-classical artist from Malta. His work is mainly influenced on the styles of Hammock, Sigur Rós, Stars of the Lid and Brian Eno. His works are based mainly on vast Soundscapes integrated with piano tracks and to a certain extent, voice-over samples. One can see that a minimalistic approach in his music is certainly prominent, ultimately creating rather soothing and extensive soundscapes. Methods of productivity in his music result in a certain set of distinct sounds, creating a rather unparticular and unexampled identity. 天 is an Ambient / Field Recording project by Roman Willi from Lucerne, Switzerland. Its goal is to create a mixture of natural sounds and ambient soundscapes for meditation and relaxation. The Field Recording used are always self-recorded. Roman is influenced by the works of Saito Koji, Nobuto Suda and Michiru Aoyama.
